

Fig. 57.— All THINGS rotation curves plotted in linear units in the left panel and in logarithmic units in the right panel. The origin of the rotation curves has been shifted according to their absolute luminosity as indicated on the horizontal axis. The bar in the respective panels indicates the radial scale.